Do you enjoy watching films & other forms of visual media and critically analyzing them?

If so, you will love our minor in Visual and Screen Cultures

The Minor in Visual and Screen Cultures allows students to specialize in the study of cinema and other visual media, with emphasis on the history, theory, and criticism of these art forms. Students who wish to minor in Visual and Screen Cultures must successfully complete at least 15 semester hours. The student must complete CP 101: Film History and Analysis, CP 210: History of Photography or CP 361: History of New Media, CP 260: Understanding Visual Media, one 3 credit cinema studies elective at the 300 level and one 3 credit studies elective at the 400 level in order to obtain a minor. All courses for the minor in cinema studies must be completed with a grade of C or higher. Courses for this minor may not be double-counted with a major in Cinema and Photography. A G.P.A. of 2.5 is required to add into and to remain in the minor.

Visual and Screen Cultures minor requirements
CP 101: Film History and Analysis
CP 210: Hist. of Photography or CP 361: Hist. of New Media
CP 260: Understanding Visual Media one 3 credit cinema studies elective at the 300 level one 3 credit studies elective at the 400 level

Studies Course Inventory
CP 101: Film History and Analysis
CP 210: History of Photography
CP 260: Understanding Visual Media
CP 350: Classical Hollywood Cinema
CP 351: Short Cinema Studies
CP 349: The Cinema
CP 357: History of Documentary
CP 358i: Introduction to Peace Studies
CP 359: History of the Experimental Film
CP 370: Topics in Cinema Studies
CP 415: Photo Criticism and Practice
CP 460: Survey of Film History
CP 466: Film Styles and Genres
CP 467: Film Authors
CP 469: Queer Visual Culture
CP 470A: Advanced Topics in Cinema Studies
RT 489: History of African-American Images in Film
RT 489: Blaxploitation Films of the 1970s
RT 489: Documenting the Black Experience
Courses from other departments approved on a course-by-course basis

For more information contact: Carol Westerman-Jones, Academic Advisor
Department of Cinema & Photography, Communications Building Room 1101, 1100 Lincoln Drive, SIUC
Phone: 618-453-4164 e-mail: carolw@siu.edu